

ResearchMate Memory Notes

Introduction

A research assistant should remember research direction, advisor requirements, and writing style.

Methods

Long term memory records should include timestamps and categories for later retrieval.